

Warren Miller Gives Girls A Chance

Toronto, ON (Warren Miller/Give Girls A Chance Press Release)—Prepare to charge into winter as Warren Miller’s PLAYGROUND, the world’s ultimate action sports film, hits Ontario Place’s CINESPHERE, at 8 pm, November 14th. Warren Miller’s latest feature, PLAYGROUND, will astound fans with electrifying winter sports footage presented in crystal-clear high definition saturated with deep powder, incredible cinematography, technical lines, massive air and good karma.

Narrated by Olympic Gold Medalist, skiing innovator and pop icon, Jonny Moseley, Warren Miller’s 2007 film showcases stunning global destinations from Canada to Japan and highlights Ski Dubai a most unlikely ski resort located in the Arabian Desert. This year’s feature includes: a rare segment on ski racing king and industry bad boy Bode Miller; a trip to Alaska’s untouched Chugach Range with X-Games Gold Medalists Zach and Reggie Crist; and astonishing aerial acrobatics from Sweden. PLAYGROUND also examines the future of snowboarding featuring the Burton Smalls Team, pre-teens who prove that size isn’t everything.

A high-energy soundtrack by world renowned bands including the Beastie Boys and Maroon 5 delivered on the CINESPHERE’s state-of-the-art digital 24,000 watt sound system accompanies Warren Miller’s world famous cinematography.

All proceeds from the special screening of PLAYGROUND will support the work of Give Girls A Chance. Give Girls A Chance works to educate girls around the world who have been denied the right to a basic education or whose schooling has been interrupted. As evidenced by the Warren Miller Freedom Foundation, Miller prizes the opportunity to follow your dreams. Education makes that possible! With education, girls who want to change their world become the women who do. Proceeds from this special screening of PLAYGROUND will support Give Girls A Chance projects.
